USPS gets several new P.O. site suggestions

By ALISON ALOISIO

Several people have contacted the Postal Service with potential sites for a new Bethel post office, a USPS official told selection last week.

The overcrowded office on Main Street is scheduled to be enlarged, either through renovation or relocation, in the next year.

Terry Brooks, a real estate specialist for the Postal Service, met last Wednesday with selection to swap information and ideas on the planned expansion.

Brooks said the Postal Service would establish a preferred area of focus for the office, after getting direction from local officials. USPS would then advertise for proposals for a site.

Selections and Brooks looked at the part of town that is bounded by Church, Board, Main, Chapman, Victoria, Oak, Main and Railroad streets. The area was suggested as a focus because it is bounded by the 1895.

Telstar returns to Middle Ages

By MICHAEL DANIELS

It was a full-on medieval fair at Telstar Middle School last week. Students and teachers alike were dressed in period clothing and the school was transformed into a medieval village.

The school's medieval theme was a result of a project initiated by the school's medieval club, which was formed last year.

The club's members, who are all seventh graders, spent the week working on projects related to the medieval period. They made jester hats, painted medieval-style shields, and wrote medieval-style letters.

The club's projects were displayed in the school's medieval-themed courtyard. The courtyard was decorated with medieval-style flags and banners.

The club's projects were a great success. They were well-received by the school's medieval club and the school's medieval-themed courtyard.

Planners set new review criteria for Bethel Station

By MICHAEL DANIELS

The Bethel Planning Board is tightening up its procedures for dealing with individual projects within the overall Bethel Station development.

In June of 1994 the board approved the general plan for Phase One of the development. Since then individual buildings within the development have been reviewed as they have been proposed.

Recently, however, board members have been expressing frustration with the numerous changes the developers have been making to the original plan, and to the lack of documentation in some of their presentations to the board.

The board members are also questioning the candor of developer Heine Merrill (who was not at last week's meeting).

At one point during last week's discussion, planning assistant Nancy Schlieper characterized Merrill's explanation of one issue as "a lot of double talk."

In proposing the tighter guidelines for reviewing projects within the development, board chairman Don Feeney said, "We're not going to sit here and take promises of any kind. We've been through all that."

The new guidelines adopted by the board include the following:

1) All future requests will be reviewed in accordance with the original conditions of approval.

2) The Performance Standards of the Site Plan Review Ordinance will be used as a reference in reviewing future projects.

3) An entire package of supporting materials and documentation must be presented to the board a week prior to the meeting at which the request is to be considered. The board will no longer accept material at the meeting itself.

4) The board reserves the right to table any project for verification of past approvals if necessary.

5) Conditions of approval will not be granted for major missing items, such as drainage plans, fire marshal or water district approval.

Feeney also noted that the numerous changes in the project could eventually justify an entirely new site plan review.

"There is an accumulation of small changes in Bethel Station, some of them not so small, that sometime or another could be regarded as a change of use, which could warrant them having to come right in with their site plan and have to start all over again," he said.

Canoe trip will trace, celebrate entire length of Androscoggin

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Call it "Lake Umbagog to the Sea."

A canoe trip being planned for June will follow the entire course of the Androscoggin River - from its headwaters in Lake Umbagog to its confluence with the Penobscot River in Merrymeeting Bay, east of Brunswick.

The trip is intended to call attention to the economic value of the river, and to celebrate its reemergence as a prime recreational resource (see below).

Organized by the Maine Department of Environmental Protection and the Appalachian Mountain Club, the effort will rely heavily on the efforts of local groups interested in the river.

The trip will be conducted in segments, and along each stretch various river-related educational and recreational activities are planned.

Locally, Bethel's Pollution Prevention Team and the Friends of the Androscoggin are expected to play an active role in the event, but wide public participation is being encouraged, according to Marcel Polak of the AMCC.

State may say the 'Scrog is swimmable'

As far as the local stretch of the river is concerned, there might be something more to celebrate in June - the river could finally be classified as swimmable.

In April the DEP is scheduled to release its biennial State of Maine Water Quality Assessment. Despite the reduction in pollution since the passage of federal clean-water laws, the most recent assessment, in 1994, still listed the stretch of river between the New Hamp Shore and Rumford as unswimmable.

That classification was primarily due to high levels of coliform bacteria found in testing during the early 1980s - prior to a number of pollution control measures established along the river.

During the past summer new water samples were taken by Bethel's pollution prevention team, and those samples are now being analyzed by the DEP.

If the new samples show acceptable coliform levels, the "unswimmable" label will be lifted in the April report.

The DEP is making no promises until the tests are complete, but "We will probably be able to do that," said Katherine Metzger, the DEP's Androscoggin River watershed coordinator.

MEE TOOISM IN GREENWOOD?

To the Editor:

Most of us agree that we have good, and honest selectmen in Greenwood, much unlike "Slick Willie" in Washington. It is just that some of us have a much different philosophy. For example, I am told that one of the most compelling reasons for hiring a town manager is that he is trained to get more government "grants," and he will only cost less than $25,000 for four days per week.

The philosophy of "mee too" started just after I began working, off the farm. A guy named Roosevelt started a huge give-away program, and told us never to worry about where the money would come from. Some of us did ask, but the time that Johnson came along, the "Great Society" was in high gear. All he had to do to get elected was to promise more welfare. The rest is history, except that our children are inheriting a debt that can never be paid. Worse yet, it looks like they will never be told the truth as they struggle to save this country. Unless, of course, the welfare philosophy can be stopped, and we can take back our freedoms by kicking out the liberals along with their "grants" and give-away programs.

I was told by one of our selectmen that everyone is doing it, so it is important that we spend more of your money in order to get more of all this "free" money before someone else gets it. Of course, the "added benefit" will be that the "manager" will be in the town office 12 hours longer for the benefit of those poor folks who need more time.

Somewhere, sometime, more people will be moved to ask where the money is coming from; or is that too dumb a question. In my humble way of thinking, wouldn't it be nice if Greenwood could be known throughout Maine, and perhaps the country, as the town that was concerned enough about our children to announce "We can do it on our own." Heck, we just might attract new industry and jobs to help eliminate some welfare here in our own town.

Some questions about our educational system need answers when I was asked to serve on the school board. One of the real problems seems to be the many edicts and demands from Washington. More important than learning, for example, is that our children are to feel good about themselves. I found that even the "dumbed down" SAT scores have fallen 77 points. This year, the decline will be concealed from the public by the simple device of raising each score by 100 points. They call this "centering," another word is cheating. The public schools were far superior before the federal government decided that we could not run our own schools, and needed "grants." Since then, illiteracy has reached epidemic levels.

Nothing for nothing will always be paid with lower standards, poorer quality, and higher taxes. I ask that the people of Greenwood take a stand for self-reliance and self government. We could set an example that others might follow. We do not need outside "help" to run our little town.

ON BETHEL'S WATER

To the Editor:

After the draft cast on the Bryant Pond roadside spring and the claims of a former water treatment company, this seems a good time to collect on the water available in the Bethel Area.

The water supplied by the Bethel Water District meets all current standards for quality and safety. Both Bethel and West Bethel systems are tested to ensure this quality. The district works hard to see that its testing means the best value available. In 1995 the district spent over $60,000 on tests of its water. This does not include the cost of the district's labor nor the value of its customers' assistance with the testing.

There is a lot of talk about the strict limits which the tests must confirm. The drinking water standards that a public water system must meet are now so strict that there is probably no chance the Bryant Pond spring or any open untreated source can meet them.

There is a lot of talk about the strict limits which the tests must confirm. The drinking water standards that a public water system must meet are now so strict that there is probably no chance the Bryant Pond spring or any open untreated source can meet them.

The only way to reliably get water which meets these safety standards is to get it from a public water system like Bethel's that meets the regulations or, possibly, from bottled water. Any of these waters may still be contaminated by a few customers. For instance, special precautions are sometimes taken for people with weakened immune systems. Others may have an allergy to something in a particular water. The most common reason for drinking a water is that it is different from what a person has normally been drinking, not better or worse, just different.

Bethel's water has twice won awards for taste, and has consistently been ranked as the best. It was widely reported as the "best tasting water in Maine" following its award at the 1993 Maine Rural Water Association taste test.

Bethel's customers are also fortunate that its rates are low compared to other meeting today's difficult standards. The cooperation of its customers and neighbors has helped make this possible. The district needs to be assured that it would meet proposed regulations as much information became available. This has allowed time to choose wisely.

The district supports the work of the American Water Works Association's Research Foundation. The results of this research have helped Bethel achieve surprisingly economical solutions to some regulatory requirements, while making sure that its customers are given all the protection expected.

LET'S GIVE BETHEL A SPECTACULAR BICENTENNIAL

To the Editor:

Now that we are into 1996, Bethel's bicentennial year, the Bethel Bicentennial Committee is speeding up the pace of planning the celebration with a wide variety of activities to officially commemorate the town's 200th birthday. Events began this fall and many more are scheduled throughout the year. Fund raising is an ongoing effort through the sale of Bethel Bicentennial T-shirts and sweat-shirts, raffles, 1996 calendars, etc. A bicentennial coin is being planned to appear soon and other means of raising money are being explored, including a special Bethel Bicentennial stamp cancellation and a full-color poster celebrating Bethel's 200th birthday. More ideas and participation are always welcome. We need everyone in this celebration, individuals, families, businesses, etc. Let's make 1996 the most spectacular year in the town's history.

Each month the committee will sponsor a raffle with a $500 gift certificate. This month the prize is a $500 gift certificate to Preb's Pharmacy. Tickets sell for $10 each and there are only a maximum of 300 sold each month, so the chances of winning are good. I urge you to stop by Preb's and buy your chance to win or see members of the Bicentennial Committee, including Donna and George Nickerson, John Head, Jim Rose, and June Abbott. All proceeds beyond the prize go to support your bicentennial celebration.

Mayville traffic concerns

Planning Board asks once again for speed and parking changes

By MICHAEL DANIELS

The Bethel Planning Board has repeated its request that town selectmen act to reduce the speed limit and restrict parking in Mayville.

The Planning Board made a similar request in July of last year, and in October the selectmen held a public hearing on the changes.

There was little opposition to the proposal at that hearing, but in November a Maine Department of Transportation engineer told the selectmen that lowering the speed limit could actually make the road more dangerous.

To date the selectmen have taken no action on the proposal.

As reiterated by the board last week, proposed changes include: Reducing the speed limit between the Androscoggin River bridge and the Irving station, from the present 45 mph to 35 mph.

Creating a buffer to slow traffic approaching Mayville from the east. That buffer could take the form of signs warning of the upcoming 35-mile-per-hour limit, or of a lower (45-mph) limit between the Sunday River Road and the Irving station.

Posting the Mayville Road with signs prohibiting parking in the break-down lane, especially in the problem area by the Irving station and the Good Food Store.

Posting other signs to indicate no passing on a double line through Mayville.

Increasing police visibility in the area and enforcement of parking and speeding regulations.

The proposals have the support of nearly all Mayville business owners, and at last week's Planning Board meeting Gary Bready of the Briar Lea Bed and Breakfast noted that there are reductions of speed along Route 2 in Hanover, Rumford Pond and Rumford Center — all of which have lower population densities than Mayville now does. The selectmen were due to discuss the proposal again at their meeting Tuesday evening after The Citizen's press time.

Gould conversion approved, Daycare business warned

In other business last week, the board unanimously approved Gould Academy's proposed conversion of the "Vest House," most recently the Bethel Bed and Breakfast, to two faculty apartments and four dormitory rooms.

And Code Enforcement Officer Norm Putnam was instructed to advise Marie Keene that her Neighborhood Nursery School was in violation of Bethel's Site Plan Review Ordinance.

Keene has submitted an after-the-fact plan for the school but has not paid the required $125 fee. She was on the agenda for last week's meeting but did not appear.

Public Affairs or Private Gain?

By MIKE BROWN

Trying to keep ahead of the state legislature with a weekly political column is often like racing a locomotive to the crossing. The political train will undoubtedly beat this column to the deadline crossing, but here's what the sweepstakes race was all about.

The extremely fluid situation with the legislature is not a power because the House seats are now evenly divided 75-75 with one independent. And the Senate has a precarious two-seat majority with one independent.

The House Republicans caucused last week and decided to go after parity, that is, an equalization of standing committee members and committee chairs. If not immediately forthcoming to their satisfaction, the Democrats, or more specifically the speaker, Dealer Dan Gwadosky, will find himself between a Republican rock crusher and a very hard Democratic place.

Dan's footing becomes even more slippery when his future bid for the secretary of state's job is a big chunk of his predicament. Whomever wins the House majority it will be a close vote. The legislative majority literally "appoints" the constitutional officers and Gwadosky would need all the votes from both parties he can muster.

If the House R's don't get what they want, they will attempt to call for a new election of House speaker, clerk and assistant clerk. Those positions are now held by solid D-partisan loyalists, Dan Gwadosky, Joe Mayo and Millie MacFarland, respectively. All three are claiming they have enough crossover R-votes to keep their jobs even if the Republicans win.

That was not the surface sentiment in the R-House caucus last week. Almost to a legislator they said Gwadosky was blowing bravado smoke and manipulating the press. Even Rep. Donald Strout (R-Corinth), a moderate and Gwadosky ally, spoke forcefully about bringing the order calling for new elections.

(Several Republicans said Strout's stand was a fancy covering speech. Any orders for new elections would be an open roll call vote but the ballot is secret. Strout could have it both ways.)

House Republican leader Walt Whitcomb will have a tough job keeping his caucus solid with a secret ballot election. But the winning political spoils for both Republicans and Democrats is essential.

For the R's it continues their momentum of capturing D-seats and joining, for this short session anyway, the majority Republican Senate for a dominant elephant roster and carrying the ball into an election year.

For the D's, it would mean an almost total turn over of power to a R-speaker, majority committee chairs and a new House staff.

Gwadosky was hoping that the Senate R's would haul him out of the political whirlpool by giving up some committee chairs but no lifeboat there. The Senate R's are safely ashore gleefully watching Gwadosky swim for his political life.

The Senate Republicans, however, have the propensity of calling secret caucuses when they don't want the public to know what the public's business is. That happened again last week. Behind Senate President Jeff Butland's closed door, the R's secretly went about their clandestine business.

Butland said to come see him after the caucus and he would reveal what went on, that is, hand-spoon the feed. No thanks.

Butland's secretiveness is applauded by some like Sen. Charles Begley of Waldoboro, a retired educator, who would close all caucuses if he had his way. But not all R-senators. Phil Harriman of Yarmouth said he sees no reason for closing any caucus saying, "The decision to go secret is only made by two or three senators, not all of us."

House caucuses of both parties are always open, as are those of the Senate D's (D-Sen. John O'Dea of Orono calls the Republican Senators "The Republican Yacht Club.") Perhaps the blue blazers and pocket burgee patch will come later?

The Senate R's, ironically, base their closed caucuses on the opinion of one man, Cabanne Howard, the attorney general's opinion counsel (and activist Democrat) who said party caucuses by legislators in state buildings could be held behind closed doors because what they did was none of the public's business.

(Veteran newsmen and columnist Mike Brown writes regularly on the Augusta political scene. His views are his own and do not necessarily reflect those of The Citizen.)

THIS WEEK AT THE
Moses Mason House

The annual meeting of the Oxford County League of Historical Societies will be held on Saturday, Jan. 20, at 1 p.m. at the Dixfield Fire Station on Main Street.

The program will feature a slide presentation of old photos of Oxford County scenes by Allan Fraser. The nominating committee will also present a slate of officers to be considered by the delegates from historical societies throughout the county.

The meeting is open to the public and anyone interested in attending is cordially invited to attend.

Over $8,500 was raised during the 1995 Bethel Historical Society Annual Fund Campaign from a near record 330 donors. Among the final contributors for 1995 were Eleanor Wilton, Bryant Pond; Dan and Anita Gibbs, Bethel, in memory of Guy and Madeline Gibbs; Pam Heydon, Wilton, Conn., in memory of Richard W. Much appreciation is expressed to all of the donors of their generosity.

LOOKING BACK

10 years ago: Newry residents put to rest a proposed zoning ordinance in order to control growth in the town after a Bethel Citizen article stated a Freeport developer had plans to build 1,000-400 new homes on the Bear River. Bethel Town Clerk Martin Brown was quoted as saying, "Bethel's Municipal Advisory Council to represent the Maine Town and City Clerks Association, Bethel police reported a fire in the main building in the area. Steve Cline and his wife Piper were among the first to arrive at the Bethel Inn. The fire started in the kitchen. Gill to be sentenced Jan. 30

PORTLAND--Charles Gill, 58, will be sentenced in U.S. District Court on Jan. 30, according to court clerk Bob Allen. Gill pled guilty last March to knowingly using a passport secured by using a false place of birth. In late October, he pled guilty to additional federal charges of mail and wire fraud and making false claims to Medicare/Medicaid. State charges of the unlawful practice of psychology are still pending in Oxford County Superior Court. Gill was fired as a counselor at the Bethel Area Health Center in November of 1994.

Selectmen, SAD44 officials may meet

NEWRY--Selectmen hope to invite SAD44 administrators to the next "Selectmen's Summit" to discuss next year's school budget. The second in a series of summits was held last week in Greenwood, with selectmen from Bethel, Greenwood, and Newry in attendance. The officials discussed general issues common to the towns. The Newry selectmen also said they would be willing to host a school budget informational meeting with selectmen from the other towns and SAD44 officials.

NOVA hearing scheduled

RUMFORD--A public hearing on a proposed NOVA addition to Mountain Valley High School will be held on Jan. 31. If approved, the vocational program would move to MVHS, leaving behind the current older facilities scattered throughout the Rumford area. Some taxpayers have vocally opposed the plan, saying the estimated $6.2-million price was not feasible for a population that is decreasing and growing older. Residents of the 17 towns (including those of SAD44) that send students to NOVA will be asked to vote on the project in June.

Minor injuries in Rts. 26/232 crash

WOODSTOCK--Five people escaped serious injury in a head-on collision between two vehicles at the intersection of Routes 26 and 232 Thursday. According to Oxford County Sheriff's deputy Dane Tripp, the accident occurred when William E. Roberts Jr., 49, of East Bethel, pulled out to pass a logging truck as both traveled south on Route 26. John Kendrick, 20, of Sterling, Mass., was turning north onto Route 26 from Route 232, and the two cars hit head-on. The drivers and the other passengers in the Roberts vehicle -- Joan Roberts, 48, Vincent Roberts, 20, and Jaymee Grover, 4 -- were transported to Stephens Memorial Hospital, where they were treated and released.

Friends remember Newcomb

DIXFIELD--Friends of Lewis "Danny" Newcomb are trying to remember the good times, instead of the moment when the Andover man was shot and killed by San Diego, Calif., police two weeks ago. The friends say the ending is not consistent with the rest of Newcomb's life story. Jeanne Conant of Rumford said Newcomb was an EMT and a member of the Andover Fire and Rescue. Seventeen-year-old Jimmy Cole who knew Newcomb for 11 years, described him as a "kind and helping man." Cole said people should look at the good deeds in his life. "People are judging him by his mistake and he's not here to defend himself," Cole said. Friends may donate funds in his memory to the Danny Newcomb Fund, care of Arliss Gould, Box 145, Weld.

Help the oilman find his way

YARMOUTH--Maine's heating oil and propane dealers are asking for help from their customers in keeping a path cleared to fill pipes. With the deep snow, it is becoming more difficult for delivery truck drivers to find the exact location of the pipes and tanks. Often the snow is simply too deep to drag the hose through. The Maine Oil Dealers Association suggests that homeowners clear a narrow path at the same time they shovel their regular walkways.

Snow slide at Lost Valley

AUBURN--Lost Valley Ski Area experienced a rare snow slide last Wednesday when a layer of snow about 30 feet across let go on one of the mountain's steepest slopes. No one was injured. The slide on the Alpine East trail, which is only open during weekends and holidays, was unusual. It was caused in part by heavy snowfall this winter. A spokesman for the area said that a layer of artificial snow made the night before was heavier and caused the underlying layer to give way -- much the way snow slides off a metal roof. The snow slid 70 or 80 feet.

Blood supplies critically low

PORTLAND--Blood supplies are below critical levels throughout the eastern United States, and donors across the country are being asked for immediate help. With the Blizzard of '96 blanketing the Northeast and Atlantic coastline, paralyzing transportation, the blood supply has fallen to levels that will only serve hospitals for one to two days. "The American Red Cross in central and northern New England received 2,500 fewer blood donations over the past several weeks than had been anticipated," said Mary O'Neill, a Red Cross spokesman. Eligible donors are urged to make an appointment to give blood as soon as possible by calling the Red Cross at 1-800-482-0743.

Turnpike traffic up in 1995

PORTLAND--Traffic on the Maine Turnpike increased 4.5 percent in 1995. It was the fourth consecutive year the amount of traffic has grown. A spokesman said more people were driving because of an improving economy and extraordinary summer weather. The number of commuters has also increased. Traffic has grown from 3.8 million in 1996 to 4.3 million last year. It has more than doubled since 1983, when the volume was 20 million.

Sledding injuries up

PORTLAND--Heavy snow is bringing out more sledders, resulting in a noticeable increase in sledding injuries. Dr. George L. Higgins III, chief of emergency services at Maine Medical Center, said last week that a recent rise in emergency room visits for sledding injuries reflects the region's higher snowfall totals. "On my own shift, I had broken wrists, broken arms, lacerations and various soft-tissue injuries," Higgins said. "I'm impressed that we were seeing more accidents than we have in a number of years." A similar increase is reported elsewhere along the East Coast and in the Midwest. The Consumer Product Safety Commission estimates that 33,000 people nationwide require emergency room treatment for sledding injuries each year. Although children do most of the sledding, Higgins said the patients he treated weren't all youngsters. "It was 5-year-olds one moment, 40-year-olds the next," he said. "There are some adult weekend warriors out there, too."

Ske-Cology classes popular

VAIL, Colo.--A class of 8-year-olds, all beginning skiers, came to a halt at a sign on the slope known as Elk Trail. It is illustrated with animal footprints and asks what made the tracks. "It's a fox!" "No, it's a wolf." "Naah, it's a rabbit." "No it's not. It's Bambl!" "Close," the ski instructor replied. "It's an elk." She uncovered a second sign, depicting a bull elk with big antlers, and read the legend: "Adult male elks weigh 300 to 500 pounds and stand 4 to 5 feet tall." Elk Trail, with eight Q and A signs, is one of eight instructional wildlife trails on beginner to intermediate slopes used by the Vail, Beaver Creek and Arrowhead ski schools. The other trails are dedicated to porcupines, great horned owls, snowshoe hare, trout, black bears, gray wolves and trees. All are part of Ske-Cology, a training program that weaves ecology with skiing. While honing their skills on the slopes, the kids learn about the area's fauna and flora. In its first season last year, Ske-Cology received high marks from the 10,000 children enrolled and their parents.

From the Bethel Police log:

Bill bolters forced to pay up

On Jan. 15 at 12:21 a.m. a Sud's Pub employee reported that six male subjects left the bar without paying a tab of $52.43. They gave their address to a female at the bar, who gave it to police. The men were staying at North Peak Condominiums. The officer and security knocked at the door of the condo and were admitted. The six males admitted to being at the bar, but said they paid the tab. All were very intoxicated and began to get disorderly. One tried to shut the door on the officer and security people, and none would give their names. They were told one of them would have to go back and take care of the bill. The officer told them if they didn't, he would summons all parties to appear in court. One man then agreed to go, and he paid. The Sud's employee said the group would no longer be welcome at the Sud's.

Thursday, Jan. 11

At 1:36 p.m. a Bethel resident reported a man had stolen several of his checks and had been cashing them in Bethel. The total amount of the checks was unknown.

At 6:15 p.m. police met with the same man. The complainant had obtained further information. An employee of Bob's Corner Store in Locke Mills told him a subject had cashed a number of the checks there. The complainant was advised to contact the investigating officer in the morning.

Sunday, Jan. 14

At 9:45 a.m. police received a report that an unknown person had plowed snow up to the doors of the Western Maine Supply building and had hit the soda machine, moving it from the wall. There was no reportable damage. Extra patrol was planned.

This report highlights points of interest from the Bethel Police Department log, but does not include all reports of police activity. To reach the Bethel Police Department, call 911 in emergency situations, 824-3437 in non-emergencies. An answering machine takes calls when an officer is not in the office.

Who Must File a 1995 Income Tax Return?

Strange as it may seem, the IRS doesn't want everybody to file an income tax return. The reason is simple: processing tax returns costs time and money. The IRS doesn't want to use its resources handling returns that weren't necessary in the first place.

Who should file a tax return? The 1995 rules are straightforward for most people:
• Single Taxpayers: (including those who are divorced or legally separated) If you're under 65 and had gross income of at least $6,400 in 1995, you must file. If you're 65 or older, the cutoff is $7,350.

• "Head of Household" taxpayers (generally, unmarried people who provide a home to child or other dependent): If you're under 65 and made at least $8,250, you'll need to file. If you're 65 or older, the cutoff is $9,200.

• Married taxpayers filing jointly: Filing is required if both spouses are under 65 and income is at least $11,550. If one spouse is 65 or older, the cutoff is $12,300. If both spouses are 65 or older, gross income must be at least $13,050 to require filing. If you were married but not living with your spouse at the end of 1995, filing is required if you have income of $2,500 or more, regardless of your age.

• Married taxpayers filing separately: If you made at least $2,500, you must file, regardless of your age.

Different IRS rules govern filing for certain widows and widowers, dependents, those who owe special taxes, children under age 14, and aliens.

It's worth looking into your filing requirements. This year, you may not have to file at all. If you have a refund coming, you will want to file regardless of your income level. If you need more information, please call our office.

other public or private property. "We advertise for what we ideally want," he said, adding there would be some flexibility.

Current site landlord Brian Strickland was also at the meeting. He said he would probably submit a proposal to expand the office in his building.

While Brooks said he would welcome a plan from Strickland, he also said it is policy to solicit many proposals.

"We don't want to pinpoint ourselves to one property -- if I was in his (Strickland's) shoes, it would give me a chance to make the best of the opportunity," Brooks said. "The more competition we get, the better."

He also said that "people have been contacting our office for some time saying 'I have a great spot for the post office.'"

Selectman Bob Chadbourne urged Brooks to provide plenty of time for people to submit proposals in order to generate more competition.

Brooks said after the meeting that in order for the USPS to meet its target of late this year for the opening, 60 to 70 days would be the maximum period for proposal submission.

Providing for more growth

Brooks said the new office would offer between 1,500 and 1,600 mailboxes, compared to the current 892. "We build for a minimum of 10 years' growth, with an expansion capability for another 10 years," he said.

He said the USPS and the landlord would sign a 20-year lease, which neither party could break.

Brooks said that if a building the size proposed for Bethel was built from scratch, it would cost approximately $400,000, plus the price of the land.

He said the Postal Service does not provide any of the furnishings for the building, relying instead on the property owner to meet USPS specifications. He described the specified lobby design as "beautiful" but expensive.

"The lobby furnishings alone are $15,000," Brooks said.

He said postal officials would be willing to take a preliminary look at any site to see if it was generally suitable. If not, the property owner would be spared the expense of an architect's formal proposal.

Brooks said that after proposals are received, the Postal Service will review them and make the ultimate decision on a site.

"But rest assured," he told the selectmen, "we will not enter into a contract with anybody without coming back to you."

Selectman Ruth Grover, who also helped with the petition drive, said after the meeting that she viewed the session as "upbeat," and that it had answered a lot of questions about the process.

Middle Ages

The demonstration lasted several minutes, and was met with enthusiastic applause from the students.

Several seventh-graders said that the two-day fair and the SCA demonstration made for the best social studies project yet.

"It's really been an adventure," said Darcie Buker.

"Sinister" history explained

Matzke, a left-handed fighter, said after the demonstration that there's a definite advantage to being a southpaw.

He has fought at SCA events in other parts of the country, and he said most combatants have little experience with lefties.

"Some of them (the other fighters) run in the other direction when they find out I'm left-handed," he said.

Which leads him to his personal theory of why left-handed people were maligned in the Middle Ages.

"They (right-handers) realized they could kill them," he said.

Honoring their own

Ford has been an SCA member for about four years, and became interested in it in college.

"They (the SCA) are one of the only groups of people that honor rights of passage. If you do a certain level of work, you get honored publicly," she said.

"Work" includes service to the SCA organization.

"You can get an 'award of arms,' and be elevated to a lord or lady," Ford said.

GREENWOOD HISTORICAL

The New Year's Eve dance and party sponsored by the Greenwood Historical Society was well attended. It brought an added surprise to Donald and Joan Kimball of Ramoth. In honor of their recent 50th wedding anniversary, they were presented a surprise card shower by the many friends who attended these dances. This was planned by Joyce and Ralph Hoyt of Bryant Pond. Many cards and cuts were received.

Doris is a native of East Bethel and Jean of Lake Mills. She is currently the president of the Greenwood Historical Society.

The January meeting of the society was canceled due to the recent snowstorm. The film on "The Red Paint People" will be shown at the February meeting.

Campground volunteers sought

The U.S. Forest Service is seeking volunteer Campground Hosts for Dolly Copp Campground for the 1996 summer season. Since 1921, thousands of families have enjoyed camping at Dolly Copp, which is located on NH Route 16 approximately five miles south of Gorham, N.H. This summer the Forest Service will celebrate the campground's 75th anniversary and hopes to see large numbers of both new and returning visitors.

According to Forest Service spokesperson Jennifer Olmsted, "Our Hosts are an important and valued asset to our campground operation. We hope they will be as excited as we are about the special programs we have planned for this summer."

The most important duty of the hosts is sharing information with campers and visitors; other duties include minor maintenance such as cleaning campsites between campers and keeping the restrooms stocked and swept. Hosts are not expected to collect fees or perform law enforcement duties; however, sharing some basic rules with campers may be necessary.

If you are interested in applying for a host position or would like more information, please contact Jennifer Olmsted at 603-466-2713 or TTY/FAX: 603-466-2856. Volunteer applications may be obtained from the White Mountain National Forest's Androscoggin Ranger Station, 80 Glen Road, Gorham, NH 03581, or Evans Notch Ranger Station, 18 Mayville Road, Bethel, 04217.

BETHEL SENIOR CITIZENS

Bethel Senior Citizens met at the Bethel Methodist Church on Jan. 10, with 54 present.

Helen Saunders, president, opened the meeting at 11:30 a.m. It was requested that an item be added to the December minutes stating the annual Christmas party included a jolly Santa Claus (Bill Cousins) who entertained with humorous stories about several members present. Lindley Wieden reported the miniature Christmas trees, given as gifts to shut-ins, were donated by Wal-Mart and that a postponement notice published on short notice by the Bethel Citizen was also a donation. He expressed the club's appreciation for the generosity extended by both.

The secretary's report was given by Polly Davis in the absence of Barbara Brown. Thank you notes were read from Doris Brown, El-mira Doyen, Ernest Perkins, Frances Bennett, Dana Brooks, Bethel Rotary Club, and Western Area Agency on Aging. A memorial service will be held for Lillian Bartlett on Saturday, Jan. 13, 2 p.m., at the Greenleaf Funeral Home.

Lindley Wieden filled in for Sarah Stevens, treasurer, and brought the finances up to date.

Pauline Wieden reported for the Sunshine Committee in Muriel Faudi's absence. On the sick list were: Barbara Bryant, Bill Bancroft, Don Vautour, Dana Brooks, Ronald Stevens, Mellen Kimball, Jeannette Kimball, Muriel Faudi. Birthdays celebrated were: Donald Bennett, Georgia Brooks, James Brown, Edith Coolidge, Edna Curtis, Eleanor Davis, Muriel Faudi, Warren Hart, Jean Hutchins, Alfred Merrill, Clara Rolfe, Harold Rolfe, Dewey Thayer, Louise Whitman, Dorothy York, Rudy Royer led the group in singing Happy Birthday.

It was reported that former Bethel residents Rosalie Morrill Lassiter and Ruth Hastings Chapman had passed away within the last two weeks. A quiet time was held for all members who were deceased during the year.

Rudy Royer passed out silver saver jars and explained the money raised would be used for subsidizing bus trips. When filled jars are turned in to him, a number (located on the bottom of each jar) and name will be recorded and used for drawing of a prize at a later date.

Georgia Brooks won the 50/50 raffle and Iva Abraham received the door prize.

Lindley Wieden read a few anecdotes. Rudy Royer gave the blessing after which a delicious dinner of corn chowder, pot roast, mashed potato, peas and carrots, assorted breads, apple brown Betty, topped off with a tasty portion of birthday cake made by Hometown Bakery and decorated in a winter scene was enjoyed.

Ross Swan, well-known ragtime artist, delighted the group with his accomplished piano playing.

The next meeting will be held at the West Parish Congregational Church on Feb. 13. Cost of dinner will be $5.

FROM THE

Bethel Library

The Check it Out! foreign and classic videos for the month of January are: "Separate Tables," "Letter to Brezhnev," "The Odd Couple," "The Best Man," "Sweet Charity," "Two Daughters," "Das Boot" (The Boat), "Streetwise," "Small Change," and "The Tin Soldier."

Calling all quilters! For this year's Mollycodd Day Bethel Library raffle, we are planning to make a machine-applied pictorial quilt highlighting interesting landmarks in Bethel. Millie Jackson provided the inspiration: her beautiful Bethel Bicentennial quilt has been on display above the fireplace in the Library for the last few months. We are hoping to get a number of interested crafters to each make one square, and the Cross Country Quilters, who have made our raffle quilt in the past, have generously agreed to put the finished product together. If you are interested in brainstorming ideas and making one square of a quilt to be raffled this summer to benefit the library, please call the library at 824-2520, or speak to Betsy Raymond.

Many thanks to the following for recent donations of books, video tapes, and audio tapes: Melody Bonnema, Tracy Mason, Maine Line Products, and Cynthia Moran-Laux. The Bible Society of Maine, an organization dedicated to making the Bible available to everyone in a language they can understand, gave the Bethel Library a Contemporary English Version Bible and an illustrated children's Contemporary English Version Bible. Finally, thanks also to the Cross Country Quilters, a quilting group meeting weekly in the upstairs of the Library, for purchasing a new long table. Not only will it help the quilters in their projects, but library users doing research will also appreciate the extra space.

There have been a number of birthday/gift books given to the Library recently. Shreen and Jerry Vincent gave "The Gettysburg Address" by Lincoln and "Gulliver's Adventures in Lilliput" by Swift, two beautifully illustrated children's books, in memory of Rex W. Vincent. Eric and Lucia Schwarz gave "Hope, Human and Wild: True Stories of Living Lightly on the Earth" by Bill McKibben in honor of Dick Hoeh's birthday. The Schwarzes also gave "The Maine Woods: Yesterday and Today" by Cheryl Seal to honor Dick and Lorie Hoeh at Christmas. Ken and Gwyneth Bohr gave "Complete Wilderness Training" in honor of Dick and Georgette Bohr at Christmas. Elinor Mitchell gave "Nights of the Pufflings" by Bruce McMillan in honor of Lindsay Redgate's second birthday.

New books added to the Library's collection this month include: "The Road Ahead" by Bill Gates; "May Sartori: At 82" by May Sartori; "Invest Your Way to Wealth" by Theodore J. Miller; "The Fallon Blood" by Robert Jordan; "The Island of the Day Before" by Umberto Eco, and many children's fiction and non-fiction titles.

Mr. Clemens from New England Tel. and Tel. showed a movie "The Big Bounce" concerning Echo. He then spoke about the Bell Laboratories Project at Andover and showed some slides.

NEW DATE FOR SODIUM FLUORIDE PROJECT

Miss Marjorie Linscott, R. D. H., with the Division of Dental Health, State Department of Health and Welfare, has informed Mrs. Samuel Timberlake, chairman of the Dental Health Committee, of a new starting date for the sodium fluoride application project for Bethel and Newry.

May 21 the program will begin at the hot lunch room at Village Primary school. With the assistance of another hygienist, it will be possible to complete the children who were enrolled before December 15, and a limited number of pre-school children, in the remaining weeks of the school year.

Parents of children between the ages of 39 and 48 months may call Mrs. Dan Manson, at VA 4-2651, in Bethel, or Mrs. Fred Auger, VA 4-2897, in Newry, for information about this part of the project.

In Greenwood, the sodium fluoride application program will proceed according to their present plans to start late in February.

BUILD YOUR OWN HOME

Anyone interested in building their own home is encouraged to call Community Concepts, Inc.'s Self-Help Homeownership program. Potential homeowners are assisted, by staff at Community Concepts, with the application process from the initial application through approval of the loan.

The families approved for the program will work as a team constructing the new homes of the group. The construction specialist from Community Concepts will assist and train the team and will be working with the families throughout the project. No prior construction knowledge is required. The only requirement is the genuine desire to own a home.

In the recent past, 19 families have built and moved into their new homes and seven are now under construction and move-in will be this summer. This project has had a direct effect on over 100 individuals and they now live in comfortable, warm and safe homes. Materials are bought locally; any subcontracting is done locally as well. This helps boost the local economy and the property tax base of the communities.

Several additional homes are going to be built in Oxford County through this project. Location of home sites will be determined by the interest shown in any certain area. This is a first-come, first-served program. All interested persons need to apply now. Join with Community Concepts and other families and be living in your new home next year. Call Deb Trenoweth immediately at 743-7716, ext. 105, for additional information on this exciting program.

Community Concepts, Inc., is a private nonprofit community action agency incorporated in 1965 with an all-volunteer Board of Directors.

CAFE DI COCOA, BY CATHI DICOCO--The Cafe Di Cocoa has joined several other shops located in the barn at Philbrook Place in Bethel. Owner Cathi DiCocco offers homemade breads, soups, desserts and ethnic foods. Low-fat soups and desserts are also available. The cafe also sells gourmet coffees. DiCocco has taught natural foods cooking classes through SAD44 Adult Ed, and has cooked for Outward Bound and the AmeriCorps Program. Pastry chef Becky Lyons was the former assistant to the head baker at the Harrieket Inn in Freeport. The cooking is done in Bryant Pond, where DiCocco also sells some food retail. Andover

The Andover Water District would like to remind all customers that their bleeders should be turned on in an effort to avoid frozen water lines.

There have been many snow-machines passing through town enjoying the trails. Over 30 members of the Windy Valleys Snowmobile Club of Newry, and several from surrounding areas, traveled together from Newry to Andover on antique machines. The oldest snowmachine was a 1961 Polaris. There have been many changes in the sled designs since the days of wooden sleds.

Congratulations to Ben Sabin, winner of the seventh annual Geography Bee held at the Andover Elementary School. Ben won last year, also. Freddie Bailey finished second, Michael Sabin and Nigel Kreiton tied for third place.

Mrs. Dottie Lang traveled to Hudson, N.H. to spend a week during the holidays visiting with her brother Elliot and family.

Congratulations to Michael Planter, son of Norma Planter of Mt. Airy, Md. and Dick Planter of East Andover. He received the Maryland National Guard's award for Regional Soldier of the Year.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Deans recently returned from Vidor, Texas where they spent several weeks visiting with their daughter, Kimbale, and family. They arrived soon after their grandson's birth. While visiting, Gerald found the time to do a little hunting and bagged an eight-point buck. Following their return home, the Deans' enjoyed their grandson Drew's company. He stayed with his grandparents while his parents, Jodie and Doug Wilson of Bethel were on vacation.

Congratulations to Kimbale and Clay Moore of Vidor, Texas for the birth of their son, Christopher Daniel, born on Dec. 26, 1995, weighing 8 pounds, 3 ounces. Christopher joins a sister, Lauren Brooke who is two and a step-brother, Jeremy who is 8 years old. Maternal grandparents are Helen and Gerald Deans of Andover. Maternal great-grandmother is Mrs. Eleanor Ames of Mexico. Paternal grandparents are Gordon and Dot Moore of Genada, Miss. Paternal great-grandparents are Paw Paw Dooey and Big Mama Moore, also of Mississippi.

Sympathy is extended to the Bell family for the death of Albert. Mr. Bell resided in Andover for many years and was known in the area for his trapping abilities.

Get well wishes to all suffering with the flu virus that is going around and to Diane Cutting, Fannie Hall and Betsy Fisher.

Stephanie Percival, a recent graduate of U.N.H. with a bachelor's degree in molecular biology, recently left for Salt Lake City, Utah in search of adventurous job opportunities.

I made a mistake in one group of carolers we had at Christmas. It was the Girl Scouts not the 4-H group. Sorry, girls!

The Woodstock-Greenwood Senior Citizens met at the Town Annex on Jan. 4 with 22 present. We had a nice meeting, delicious dinner (potluck) and game party. It was a fun break in a snowy, cold winter. The next meeting will be Feb. 1 at the Town Annex with a potluck dinner. Linda Haegele will be the speaker.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Fletcher of Lewiston are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Nicole, born Jan. 8 at Portland, Mrs. Fletcher is the former Angela Sawyer. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sawyer and paternal grandparents are Lauralyn Fletcher of East Wilton and Cleon Fletcher of Wilton.

Bryant Pond hour on Channel IV T.V. has moved from Tuesday to Wednesday at 4 p.m.

Sunday, Jan. 21, Mark and Melanie Edwards, missionaries to Ecuador, will be guest speakers at both the 10:30 a.m. and 6 p.m. services at the Bryant Pond Baptist Church.

Good News Club meets at the Woodstock Elementary School each Wednesday from 2:30 to 3:45 p.m. All children are welcome.

Bob and Gwenn Hoyt were overnight guests at their parents, Ken and Alice Hoyt's on Friday. Maggie and Joseph Hoyt visited their dad, James Hoyt, over the weekend.

East Stoneham

by Eleanor Nelson

On Thursday of last week I went to Oxford and got a start on one of my New Year's resolutions, and that is to get folders and file away receipts in an orderly fashion. They don't get thrown away and do pile up, so now they are put away by alphabet for further reference. In cleaning out drawers one can find interesting things. Anyway, it's a good job done.

On Friday, a nice new, young veterinarian came to the house and gave "Asta" a good checkup, cut her toenails, and gave her a flea spray. She even sprayed the cat, "Miss Fred," and they didn't mind a bit. This is "At Home Veterinarian Service" by Dr. Terry Nichols, and I'm sure she will do a good business once people get to know her. One can tell she and her helper love animals.

Tuesday, Jan. 9, the Stoneham Knight Riders Snowmobile Club met at the "new room" at the Fire Station with the president, Eben Hammon presiding. There were 14 members present. They discussed the upcoming events, trail rides and public suppers to be put on by the snowmobile clubs. More information on that at a later date.

Tuesday, Jan. 9, the Oxford County Republicans met for their monthly meeting at the North Waterford Church vestry. There was a most delicious supper of ham, scalloped potatoes, veggies, etc., and the most luscious pies of all kinds. I was so tempted but was good and stuck to my diabetic cookies for dessert with the coffee.

There were about 42 people there and everyone agreed that it was a good supper and meeting. We enjoyed several speakers of the evening.

The treasurer's report was read by Steve Merrill and accepted. The new secretary is Ellie Tracy. The new by-laws were approved and discussion made on the Lincoln Day Dinner, which will take place Feb. 24, I believe, at the Bethel Inn. The committee hopes to get Sen. Olympia Snowe or Sen. William Cohen as featured speakers. There will be more information on that later.

Edith Holt is now residing with Vicki Pike, RFD, South Waterford and doing quite well, and I am sure she would just love to hear from all her friends.

Sunday church services are being held at East Stoneham for the month of January (10 to 11 a.m.). See you there?

I have just been told that the Knight Riders Club House will be open Jan. 21 and 28, Feb. 3 and 17. There will be a nice, warm fire and hot dogs, hamburgers, hot coffee, hot cocoa and cold drinks on sale, also cookies or bars.

The hours the club house will be open is 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Come on in people and enjoy your stop. The club rides to Chef's Table on Jan. 27, Feb. 10 is "our" own public supper, and the annual "Pasta Feed" put on by three clubs is planned for Sunday, Feb. 18. Mark these dates on your calendar, and I hope I got them right. We do need more volunteers to stay at the club house to help out during the times it is open.

In closing the news, I want to wish Gladys Kilgore a Happy Birthday on Jan. 18. You must be doing something right. Keep on doing it! One hundred years -- you must have seen a lot of changes through the years. You and "Ching" are A.O.K. and more power to you!

Greenwood City

by Collista Morgan

Several days of January are gone. It's a month when branches arch in bare simplicity over sheer whiteness.

Tonight I can hear the wind lusty and howling, and I understand its fury. It's cold, cold, a real New England winter. The full moon hangs high and remote and I feel an unreasonable loneliness.

The snow lies soft, untouched by hand, foot or machine on the pond and fields, but if I could look closer, I think I'd see a signature stamped across all the purity -- a necklace of tiny tracks that thread into the distance.

Ledges wrapped in sleep, pay little attention to the wind singing its lonely song.

There stand the hills tall against the sky decked in frills of white lace.

"The snows fall deep, the snows fall fast,

The lights are out of the sky;

The moon, oh, the moon of the winter wind,

And its wait as it scurries by!

From the cold gray earth to the cold gray sky

They reach like plummet lines,

And I am but an unseen speck

Amid these mountain pines."

Everyone reported a good Christmas and New Year's Eve. Now we are busy with snow and more snow.

North Newry

by Gil Seeley

The Newry Mothers Club was canceled last Monday night due to the weather. The next one will be Feb. 12 at 7:30 p.m. at the Town Building with Olive Anderson and Gil Seeley on the snack committee and Gil on the Mystery Prize. The members are to bring a Valentine for exchange.

Well... even Mother Nature was mad with the politicians in Washington and gave them a "blast" last week with a lot of snow to awaken them to the fact that we are of the people and by the people, not a game of power struggle and favoritism. Will they take the hint? Or will Mother Nature give them another "B...P.S." This was written before the storm.

The "Bowling Game" started home again because of the bad weather. See you next week.

Little Luke P. and little Garin Morton celebrated their fourth birthday last week. The birthday boys the main attraction. The day, who can forget it for what each cause, these children of the Gods were born. We speak of educating our children, do we know that our children also educate us? Let us wish these children the best of health and happiness.

Karlene Bachelder and Peter Haraty were in Unity last Thursday to help celebrate her mother's 80th birthday. Julia Bachelder, Walter Stewart, her other daughter, was also present. We took her to lunch and gifts were opened and a good time was had. Many happy returns of the day, Julia.

Brent Bachelder and Peter Haraty of Providence, R.I. were here in North Newry at Brent's fathers and mother's home last week for a belated Christmas holiday.

Well...Have you guessed who the friend was who found the money? It was Karlene Bachelder...

North Woodstock

by Sue Silver

Well, the weather has certainly been unfriendly lately. We have turned up the heat a notch!

Joelle and Errol Silver have had the flu. According to the doctor there have been quite a few that have been sick.

Louise Chapman and Shane Billings were in Auburn shopping on Saturday.

Mac Billings went to Augusta on business one day last week.

Callers on Emma Billings have been Norma Heikkinen, Irene Redman and Roseanne Broomhall.

Chris and Ken Lindsay were in Pinhook last week.

Leson Billings had a ski meet on Saturday. I bet it was cold.

Shane Billings made the Deans list for Hartford University for the last semester.

Howdy, friends. This is Monday afternoon, and I'm up from taking a little afternoon siesta. So I guess I'll get my news ready to send to the Bethel Citizen. As I look out the window, I can't help but think how lucky we are with a blizzard and no snow here as of 4:30 p.m. I can't get by time without it again.

Callers at the Laverie home on Friday were Betty Benson of West Paris and Marla Baxter of Oxford.

There will be a dance at West Paris Grange Hall on Jan. 20, and then the dance on Jan. 27 will be back at the Locke Mills Town Hall. Music at both dances will be furnished by the Richard Felt Orchestra.

Franklin Grange of Bryant Pond will meet at their hall on Jan. 15, for a potluck supper and meeting.

NUTRITION AIDES NEEDED

The University of Maine Cooperative Extension in Oxford County is seeking nutrition aides to work in the nutrition education program.

There are three full-time positions available to work in three geographical areas of the county. Initial appointment through Sept. 30, 1996. Continuation of position contingent upon funding.

Aides are responsible for teaching nutrition to eligible individuals and groups. Some teaching occurs in the homes of clients. Training will be provided. Philip Barker Exhibition

The paintings of Philip Barker will be featured at Gould Academy's Owen Art Gallery through March 1.

Barker has been drawing and sketching since childhood, and studied for three years in the early 1960s with the Spanish expressionist, Alfonso Soza. Although he is today one of Maine's best-selling Regionalist painters, he was relatively unknown prior to 1982, when, at the age of 43, with a wife and seven children to support, he left a string of jobs in carpentry, fishing, and lobstering and gambled on a full-time career as an artist. Success came quickly, as his colorful, folk-like narratives depicting local people, places, and events sold immediately. Fearing he might be forever identified merely as a folk artist, however, after several years Barker stopped painting the narratives altogether, turning instead to boldly colored and energetic landscapes which in turn became an instant success.

Barker's art has evolved over the past three decades into his present style, decidedly abstract, but with clearly representational associations. While he is still a modernist in his approach to configuration, his most recent works evidence a more lyrical feel for "line," while his earlier high-keyed palette has been somewhat toned down. Visitors to the exhibit will have the opportunity to appreciate the versatility and inventive imagination of one of Maine's best-known native painters.

The Owen Art Gallery is open weekdays from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. For weekend hours or further information, call 824-7700. There is no charge for admission.

10. What "Once in a Lifetime" event in January 1986 was the topic of a one-session workshop held in below zero temperatures on Sunset Drive in Bethel? Answer: Viewing of Halley's Comet.

NOTE: No winner in this contest apparently the challenge of perusing the back issues of the Citizen was overwhelming! We hope readers enjoy the answers in this glimpse into the past. The next Adult Education session gets underway later in January. Join in and make history as Adult Education enters its third decade!

TEACHER OF THE YEAR—Teistar High School history teacher Charlie Raymond was recently voted Teacher of the Year by the student body. He was honored as part of a National Education Week observance. Voting was based on dedication, school presence, and classroom environment. Raymond has taught at Teistar for 11 years.

Crescent Park Workshop Highlights Technology

Over 100 teachers, school board members, and administrators spent Dec. 8 at the Crescent Park School to witness first-hand the way that cutting edge technology has been introduced to enhance educational programs.

Charles W. Sandstrom, currently the Western Maine Workshop director, discussed the development of the distance learning program. He pointed out that the program is currently being introduced at WES and AES this year. SAD44 is the only school system in Maine currently using this program.

Linda Kuzyk presented the visitors with hands-on experiences on the Internet assisted by six of her students. Opportunities were provided for visits to various educational Web sites. E-mail was also introduced to the gathering.

Judy Coolidge and Cindy Dawson followed up on the previous workshop by providing more extensive training with regard to e-mail. In addition, the EduQuest software currently in use was also displayed.

This workshop was the first of its kind in Western Maine and attracted visitors from over 300 school systems.

One of the only schools in Maine to be currently introducing this technology. Children correspond with the experts via an 800 telephone number, fax and e-mail.

Shirley Wright and Kirsten Mattson provided an overview of the Galaxy Network, an interactive Distance Learning program currently in place in all grade two, three and five classrooms at CPS. This technology is also currently being introduced at WES and AES this year.

Our Friends in Ireland

Mrs. Linda Kuzyk, grade-five teacher at Crescent Park School, and her fifth-grade students have had the opportunity to communicate with a class in Belfast, Ireland. It's an ongoing adventure, as they fax back and forth. They are expecting to get e-mail capabilities really soon, which will expand opportunities to get to know them better.

The adventure started with Mr. David Murphy's (principal of Crescent Park School) visit to St. Malachy's School in Ireland during the latter part of the 1994-1995 school year. Mrs. Kuzyk's fifth graders expressed an interest in communicating with a fifth sixth-grade class in that school, and it has happened!

The communications have been going on since October, and have included faxing, "snail-mail," and telephone conversations. It's really wonderful! Who knows, maybe someday we will meet one another!

CHRISTMAS CRAFTS—Laurie Brown works with her son Ben, A.J. Clifford, and Jennifer Learned in grade one preparing crafts to sell.

Andover Elementary School

BY BARBARA SABIN

The Andover Parent Teacher Group sponsored a Christmas Fair for the students the week before Christmas. Parents volunteered in classrooms, under the direction of Julie Thibodeau, making crafts to sell. Students were treated to game booths, at no cost, face painting, baked goodies, balloons, and a visit with Santa. Craft tables and raffles were also available.

Telstar Middle School - Geography Bee

On Thursday, Jan. 4, Telstar Middle School held its annual Geography Bee. This contest is part of the National Geography Bee.

Bee questions, which reinforce the National Geography Standards, are designed to test a student's knowledge of geography. The format calls for brief answers, usually only a word or a phrase. Questions may require interpretation of maps, graphs and photographs.

The Telstar Middle School Geography Bee was organized by Mrs. Donna Lunnay. Mr. Charles Raymond was the Bee Master and Mrs. Karen Bean was the judge. The ten students who competed in the school competition had been selected from preliminary rounds at each grade level. Contestants from the sixth grade included: Chris Bove, Erik Hadfield, and Ryan Wheeler. Representing the seventh grade were: Marianne Nadeau, Stephanie Vaughan, and Sheryl Westleigh. The eighth grade contestants were: Marty Odlin, Colin Reuter, Per Sandstrom, and Nick Smith. After seven rounds of questions, two finalists remained.

Marty Odlin was named the school winner and Per Sandstrom was the runner up after the tie-breaker round of five questions. Congratulations to all of the participants who did an excellent job and best of luck to Marty in the state competition.

BARBARA BUSH FOUNDATION FOR FAMILY LITERACY GRANT—The MSAD44 Adult Education program has received a grant of $7,500 from the Barbara Bush Foundation for Family Literacy for Project Fast Track, a collaborative family literacy project which was developed by Cathy Newell of the Adult Education program, David Murphy of Crescent Park School, and Cindy Mills and Maryvonne Wheeler of the West Bethel Children's Center. The grant was one of 14 Maine projects funded through the Bush Foundation's Maine Family Literacy Initiative out of 48 applications submitted. Grant awards were made by Mrs. Bush at a reception held at the Portland Adult Education Center on Dec. 8. Cathy Newell, Nancy Murphy of Even Start Family Literacy, Maryvonne Wheeler of the Children's Center, and Wendy Hanscom, Satellite editor, attended the event. Project Fast Track will focus on the critical transition from Head Start to elementary school for eight to 10 families from January 1996 to June 1997, with a combination of early childhood and adult education, parent support, and intergenerational activities leading to a successful integration of the families into the learning community at the Crescent Park School.

School sports

Freestyle skiing

Gould's Odlin wins mogul competition

Jan. 13--Jessie Odlin won the women's mogul event at the Maine State Freestyle Championships at Sugarloaf/USA. Over 30 women competed in the event, which combines mogul technique, overall speed, and aerobics. Odlin scored 22.60 points for two runs -- .88 points ahead of the second-place finisher.

Alpine skiing

Telstar boys win slalom

Jan. 11--The Telstar boys' team took four of the top 10 spots to win a three-team slalom meet at Sunday River. Matt Hiebert, Chris Vaughan, and Adam Newell finished second, third, and fourth, respectively. Coach Tom Remington said of the team, "They continue to amaze me with their depth, particularly for the three freshmen (Hiebert, Vaughan and Sayen). We are now starting to get some recognition from other teams. We are continuing to work hard and are setting our sights on our upcoming conference championship and state meet."

In the girls' slalom race, Vickie Coolidge and Melinda Gilbert finished sixth and seventh, respectively, while Tonilyn Vacca and Julie Burgi were 10th and 11th. The team was third behind Mt. Valley and Oxford Hills.

Cross-country skiing

Gould second in relays

Jan. 13--Gould finished second overall in the Mt. Blue Relays in Farmington. The mixed medley race featured two legs of classic skiing and two legs of skating with two boys and two girls on each team. Racers for Gould were Scot Sawyer, Lindsey Molyneux, Margaret Shaner and Joran Elias. Elias posted the fastest skating time of the day with 10 min. 48 sec.

Telstar boys second; Fyrberg wins for girls

Jan. 10--Jayson Hebert finished third, Jerry Bernier fourth, Jason Billings seventh, and Chris Oriok ninth, as the Telstar boys' team placed second in a five-kilometer race at Lost Valley. Lisa Fyrberg won the girls' 5-k, with Michelle McInnis and Jessie Wright placing fourth and fifth, respectively. The girls did not score as a team.

High school boys' varsity basketball

Jan 49, Telstar 42

Jan. 15--Caesar Morgan led the Rebels with nine points and eight rebounds in a loss to Jay. Keith Stevens and Cory Koch had eight points each and Wade Lutton had seven.

Livermore Falls 61, Telstar 51

Jan. 13--Cory Koch scored 14 points, Caesar Morgan had 16 rebounds, and Tony Buker had five steals as the Rebels were defeated by the Livermore Falls Andies.

Hyde 59, Gould 49

Jan. 13--Hyde School stopped Gould's two-game winning streak with a victory in Farnsworth Field House.

Carrabee 66, Telstar 50

Jan. 11--Caesar Morgan scored 12 points and Jason Berry 10 in a loss to Carrabee. Jason Berry had seven rebounds and five assists. The Rebels led for most of the first half, but were outscored 25-14 in the fourth quarter.

Gould 64, Wayneville 52

Jan. 11--Forward Lanny Popoola was red hot as he scored 27 points in a win over Wayneville. Guard Shawn Morales scored 13 points, including one three-pointer.

Gould 61, Pine Tree 49

Jan. 8--Lanny Popoola scored 20 points and Adam Vinson added 18 in a win over Pine Tree Academy.

High school girls' varsity basketball

Madison 72, Telstar 35

Jan. 12--Beth Howe had 12 points, Jana Mason 11, and Sarah Richardson 10 as Telstar lost to Madison. Mason also had 12 rebounds and four steals. Jen Stevens and Becky Chandler had seven and six rebounds, respectively. The Rebels outrebounded the Bulldogs 49 to 23, and managed 75 attempts on goal to Madison's 66. "Jana Mason had a great game," said coach Ray Seames. "Besides her other stats, she had no turnovers, and collected only two fouls. Sarah Seames played a good defensive game against the point guard Marandola, one of the top scorers in the MVC."

High school boys' J.V. basketball

Carrabee 63, Telstar 33

Jan. 11--Neil Thurlow led Telstar with seven points in as the Rebels were defeated by Carrabee.

High school girls' J.V. basketball

Obituaries

LEWIS NEWCOMB, JR.

Lewis "Danny" Newcomb, Jr., 44, of Andover, died Thursday, Jan. 4, 1996, in San Diego.

He was born May 2, 1951 in Farmington, son of Lewis D. and Arliss Balser Newcomb, Sr. He was educated in the schools of Farmington. While he was in school he worked for the Wilton Tannery Company for several years. He worked for Boise Cascade wood mill for over 14 years, and while there he participated in training people for handling hazardous materials.

He did volunteer work for the Wilton Ambulance and Wilton Fire Department, also for Andover Fire Department and Andover Rescue Service for many years.

He enjoyed fishing, hunting, trapping, four-wheeling and snowmobiling.

Survivors include his father, Lewis and step-mother Faye Newcomb, Sr. of Minot; his mother, Arliss and step-father Emerson Gould of Weld; a son, Shawn D. of Jay; two daughters, Cindy of Rumford Center and Melissa of Mexico; four sisters, Shirley Twidwell of Rumford, Diane Ryerson of Topsham, Lorraine Smith of Livermore, and Cathy Roux of Farmington; a granddaughter of Dixfield; a step-brother, Royce Gould of Lovell; two step-sisters, Eva French of Vassalboro and Julie Perkins of Benton; and several nieces, nephews and cousins.

Funeral services were held Thursday, Jan. 11, at Henderson Memorial Baptist Church in Farmington, with the Rev. Stan Wheeler officiating. Interment will be in the Fairview Cemetery, Farmington, in the spring. Friends may make donations in his memory to Danny Newcomb Memorial Fund, c/o Arliss Gould, Box 145, Weld, ME 04258.

RUTH H. CHAPMAN

Ruth (Hastings) Chapman, 88, of Bangor, formerly of Bethel, widow of William C. Chapman II, died Tuesday, Jan. 9, 1996, at the Stillwater Health Care Facility in Bangor, where she had been a patient for the past several years.

Mrs. Chapman was born in Auburn, Feb. 24, 1907, daughter of Marshall R. and Norma (Linscott) Hastings. She graduated from Gould Academy in the class of 1924 and received her B.A. from Bates College in 1928. On Sept. 9, 1928, she married William C. Chapman II and she maintained their home on Broad Street, Bethel, for many years. Mr. Chapman died in 1974.

Mrs. Chapman was a member of the O.E.S. Purity Chapter of Bethel, an Air Raid Warden during World War II, and a former member of the Bethel Water District. For many years she served as librarian for the Bethel Library.

Survivors include two daughters, Mary-Jane and husband Rodman Barlow of Burlington, Vt., Betsy and husband Paul Goss of Bangor; one granddaughter and three grandsons; two great-grandchildren; and her brother-in-law, Franklin S. Chapman of Bethel.

At her request there were no public visiting hours or funeral service. Interment will be at Riverside Cemetery, Bethel, in the spring.

ELIZABETH D. COX

Elizabeth Delphina (Whitman) Cox, 78, of South Paris, died Tuesday, Jan. 9, 1996, at Stephens Memorial Hospital, Norway.

Mrs. Cox was born in Greenwood City on April 3, 1917, daughter of the late Ara "Dime" and Alma (Hayes) Whitman. She attended Greenwood schools and graduated from West Paris High School in 1935.

She worked for a number of years at the former Crane's Department Store in Norway, and throughout her lifetime had been a foster mother to many children in the area. Mrs. Cox had maintained her residence in the Norway/Paris area for the greater portion of her life and was a member of the Deering Memorial Methodist Church of South Paris.

Survivors include a son, Jerald R. and his wife Brenda of North Norway; four daughters, Joan and husband Gordon Morgan of Greenwood, Jane and husband Rodney Kimball of Watford and Florida, Janis and Edward "Pop" Buck of West Paris, and Jolene Witham with whom she made her home in South Paris.

At her request there were no visiting hours and services were private. Friends who wish may make donations in her memory to American Lung Association of Maine, 128 Sewall Street, Augusta, ME 04330.
